

We at by Wevr Pty Ltd (ACN 665 121 540) (“we”, “us”, or “our”) understand that our users care about how their Personal Data (as defined below) is handled. This Privacy Policy describes our data processing activities and practices when visitors and users access our websites and services, which includes our content on <https://wevr.ai> and other subdomains. Please take a moment to read this Privacy Policy carefully. You may contact us in the manner stated in this Privacy Policy if you have any questions.

This Privacy Policy supplements but does not supersede nor replace any other consents you may have previously provided to us in respect of your Personal Data, and any consents you may have provided in connection with this Privacy Policy are cumulative and additional to any rights which we may have under applicable law to handle or process your Personal Data.

We reserve the right to revise this Privacy Policy from time to time. ACCEPTANCE OF THIS PRIVACY POLICY

By interacting with us, submitting information to us, or signing up for any of our products or services on our websites, you agree and consent to our processing of your Personal Data, including by our authorised service providers, in the manner and for any of our purposes set forth in this Privacy Policy.

If you do not agree with or you are not comfortable with any aspect of this Privacy Policy, you should immediately discontinue access or use of our websites and services.

COLLECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

"Personal Data" means: (a) any data relating to an identified or identifiable natural person; or (b) “personal data,” “personal information,” “personally identifiable information” or similar term as defined under applicable data protection laws.

We comply with data minimization principles. We collect and process only the minimal amount of personal data that is necessary for performing the operations requested by you. We do not attempt to collect any personal data from you that are not strictly necessary for performing the requested operations. The following types of personal data will be collected by the Company through Wevr.

REGISTRATION: You, as a user of Wevr, may be asked to register an account to use Wevr or access any of the services thereon. During the process of your registration, you will be asked to provide your email address, a password, country, etc that you would like to disclose. We use these personal data to provide the services to you and ensure the security of Wevr.

Technical information and usage data, such as statistical and site-related information relating to how a visitor arrived at our websites or platforms, the IP address which may provide information about precise or approximate location, device information, clickstream information and time stamp, and information about how you use our websites and services. We may automatically receive and record such information from our server logs or cookies. For more information, please see the section on Cookies below;

Marketing and communications data, such as your preferences in receiving marketing messages from us, your communication preferences and history of communications with us, our service providers or third parties; and/or Other information, which may include your participation in our contests, promotions, or surveys, and photographs, videos and/or audio recordings taken by us or our representatives.

We may also collect and process information from third-party sources, which may include public records, social media platforms, and blockchain data about records or histories of transactions occurring on the applicable blockchain for a blockchain wallet address.

We may also offer features that help users invite or refer their friends or contacts to use our services, and we may collect Personal Data (such as contact details) about these invitees or referrals so we can reach out to them. Please do not refer someone to us or share their contact details or Personal Data with us unless you have their permission or consent to do so.

While labelling blockchain wallet addresses is an integral part of our business, we do not use Personal Data of our users (such as the blockchain wallet addresses in their account or profile information) to add or publish such labels or otherwise reveal the identity of any natural person as the owner of any given blockchain wallet address.

In addition, we do not take any other steps that would reveal the identity of any natural person as the owner of any given blockchain wallet address or otherwise make them identifiable (taking account of the means reasonably likely to be used to identify them). Indeed, at Wevr, we do not have the technical ability to effect any such identification of owners of blockchain wallet addresses ourselves – we have also adopted and implemented technical and organisational measures to further cement the fact that no such identification should occur in the ordinary course of our business. There may be limited exceptions to this general rule, for example, we may add labels about a high-profile public figure who has publicly declared their blockchain wallet address; however, such circumstances cover a statistically insignificant percentage of the blockchain wallet address-related information we use to provide our websites and services.
